Monkey Publishing, a division of Glimmer Tree, L.L.C., believes that despite the variety of media available to the public, the written word and an active imagination are just as viable and important today as they have ever been.

We live in an age of vast technology and endless possibilities. Traditional forms of entertainment are evolving. Web Logging (blogging) is changing the way news, sports and opinion are delivered. Traditional delivery in the music industry has been turned on its ear with the advent of Web delivered music sites. Digital recording has reinvigorated the television industry.

Publishing is no longer the sole domain of a few large houses based in our industrial centers. Technology has allowed diversity unrivaled in history. Monkey Publishing and its parent, Glimmer Tree, L.L.C., are poised to take advantage of our technology to deliver quality writing with more flexibility, quicker turnaround and still maintain high production values.

Monkey Publishing will deliver positive, inspiring children's stories, historical works, novels and all other traditional forms of books.

Monkey Publishing will also be poised to deliver a quality alternative to self-publishing, allowing prospective authors to publish works of depth and quality for little more than the amateur works that are so often the result.

Monkey Publishing is about personalized service. If you want to print that special genealogy project or mom's cookbook or a story about an unsung hero in your family, we will work with you and help you make your dream a reality, whether you want to print one book or a thousand. We also make great scratch pads, form pads, business cards and brochures. And we won't tell you how to go about making them. We'll listen to you and try to make your vision a reality.

Our parent arm, Glimmer Tree, LLC., has just released a new website called the Maine Digital Press (medigitalpress.com). The site will focus on forward thinking Maine businesses with unique strategies and winning practices.

Glimmer Tree Consulting can help you design websites, create logos, inspire new marketing strategies and help your business and its current customer service practices.

We are proud to bring you these products and services from the top of Maine. Too often, technology has been maligned for the cluttered life of our generation. To us, technology allows us to bring you quality products and services without sacrificing our lifestyle uncluttered by traffic lights, long lines and miles of concrete.

We are convinced that our understanding of today's advances in such a beautiful setting will instill in all of our products a grounded and moral approach. We sincerely hope you feel our enjoyment as we bring this content to you.

These are exciting times and Monkey Publishing and Glimmer Tree, LLC. is looking forward to bringing you "quality from the County" that touches you no matter where you are.
